ORIENT CLASSES

What is the mean of electoral politics?

Ans :-> Electoral politics refers to the political activities, processes, and strategies associated with the conducting of elections and participation in the electoral system.

It involves the ways in which many political parties, candidates, and voters engage with the democratic process to choose representatives, form governments, and make decisions on policies.

Define Election.

An election is a process where people vote to choose leaders, make decisions, or approve policies. It allows citizens to participate in selecting representatives or deciding on important issues for the community or country.

How many types are election are conducted in India?

General Elections:
These elections are held every five years to elect members of the Lok Sabha (lower house) and Vidhan Sabha (state legislative assemblies). They are crucial for forming the government at both the national and state levels.

Mid-term Elections:
These elections occur if the Lok Sabha or Vidhan Sabha is dissolved before its term ends due to factors like a vote of no confidence or the government falling. Mid-term elections may also occur if the chief minister or prime minister resigns or if there's political instability.

By-elections:
These are held to fill vacant seats in the Lok Sabha or Vidhan Sabha due to reasons like resignation, death, or disqualification of an elected representative before their term is completed. By-elections can occur between the general elections to maintain the integrity of the legislative body.

What is the story of assembly election of Haryana?

- In 1982, Harayana is led by Congress Party headed by CM Bhajan Lal.

- Chaudhary Devi Lal led a movement called “Nyaya Yuddh” (Struggle for Justice) and formed a new party called Lok Dal.
- The 1987 Haryana Assembly elections are a key example of electoral politics.
- The ruling party was defeated, and the newly formed Lok Dal, led by Chaudhary Devi Lal, won with a massive majority.
- The election showed how voters exercise their power to change governments through voting.

- Devi Lal’s party promised social welfare, which influenced voters' decisions.
- It demonstrated how electoral competition and voter participation shape democracy.

Why do we need election?

Elections are crucial because they:

- Empower citizens: People have the power to choose leaders and shape policies.
- Ensure accountability: Leaders are answerable to the people for their actions.
- Maintain legitimacy: Elected governments have the mandate to govern.
- Promote peaceful transitions: Elections ensure smooth changes in leadership.
- Foster reforms: Voters select leaders who address social and economic needs.
- Balance power: Elections prevent any group from gaining too much control.
- Encourage participation: Citizens engage in shaping their country's future.
- Ensure representation: All groups have a voice in government.

What features makes election democratic?

Elections are considered democratic when they have the following features:

1. Universal Suffrage: Every eligible citizen has the right to vote, without discrimination based on race, gender, or social status.

ORIENT CLASSES

2. Free and Fair: Voters are free to make their choices without coercion or manipulation. There is no undue influence on the voting process.
3. Regular Elections: Elections are held at regular intervals, ensuring that leaders remain accountable to the public.
4. Secret Ballot: Voters' choices are kept confidential to prevent intimidation and ensure freedom of choice.
5. Multiple Political Parties: A variety of political parties and candidates can compete, allowing voters to have diverse choices.
6. Equal Representation: All votes carry equal weight, ensuring that each citizen's vote has the same power.
7. Transparency: The electoral process, including voting and counting, is open and transparent to avoid fraud or manipulation.

Is political competition is good or bad? Discuss it with merits and demerits.

Political competition refers to the contest between political parties, candidates, or groups for power and influence in the government. It plays a vital role in democracy, but it has both merits and demerits.

Merits of Political Competition:

- Accountability: Leaders stay answerable to voters.
- Better Governance: Parties offer improved policies and reforms.
- Strengthens Democracy: Encourages diverse opinions and checks power.
- Increases Voter Engagement: Promotes higher turnout and informed citizens.
- Prevents Authoritarianism: Reduces risks of unchecked power.

Demerits of Political Competition:

- Polarization: Can divide society and create conflict.
- Negative Campaigning: Focuses on attacking opponents rather than solutions.
- Short-Term Focus: Politicians may prioritize immediate gains over long-term solutions.
- Stability Issues: Excessive competition may lead to political instability or gridlock.

ORIENT CLASSES

Overall, while political competition fosters democracy and accountability, it must be balanced to avoid division and instability.

Define electoral constituencies.

electoral constituencies are defined regions from which voters choose representatives to make decisions on their behalf in a legislature.

What is the mean of reserved constituencies?

Reserved constituencies are electoral areas set aside for specific minority or marginalized groups to ensure they have representation in the legislature.

Why is it important?

It is important to

- ❖ Ensure marginalized or underrepresented groups have political representation.
- ❖ Prevent political exclusion of specific communities.
- ❖ Help achieve more balanced and equitable governance.
- ❖ Support social justice by giving all groups a voice in decision-making.

How many seats are reserved?

In India, 84 seats are reserved for Scheduled Castes (SC) and 47 for Scheduled Tribes (ST) in the Lok Sabha (lower house of Parliament), along with additional reservations in state legislatures.

Define voter's list.

A voter's list, also known as an electoral roll, is an official record of individuals who are eligible to vote in an election.

It includes the names, addresses, and other relevant details of registered voters within a specific constituency or region.

ORIENT CLASSES

Define election campaign.

An election campaign is a coordinated effort by political candidates, parties, or organizations to promote their agenda, persuade voters, and secure votes in an upcoming election.

It typically involves a series of activities like public speeches, debates, advertisements, rallies, and canvassing to raise awareness, highlight key issues, and appeal to the electorate.

The goal of an election campaign is to gain support and ultimately win the election.In what way election campaign is done?

What restrictions are put on political parties during election campaign?

- Campaign Finance Limits: Restrictions on fundraising and spending.
- Advertising Regulations: Limits on political ads and media time.
- Prohibition on Vote Buying: Illegal to exchange money or goods for votes.
- Use of Government Resources: Cannot use public funds or resources for campaigns.
- Campaigning Timeframe: Limited to a specific period before the election.
- False Information or Hate Speech: Prohibited from spreading misleading or harmful content.
- Public Spaces and Assembly: Regulations on rallies and noise levels.
- Voting Conduct: Must respect voter secrecy and fair voting practices

Mention some important slogans given political parties.

Important slogans from political parties in India between 1970 and 1990:

1. "Garibi Hatao" (Remove Poverty) - Indian National Congress (Indira Gandhi)
    - Used during the 1971 election, focusing on poverty alleviation.

ORIENT CLASSES

2. "Jai Jawan Jai Kisan" (Hail the Soldier, Hail the Farmer) - Indian National Congress (Lal Bahadur Shastri)
    - Popularized in the 1960s but remained influential in the 1970s, emphasizing the importance of soldiers and farmers.
3. "Save Democracy" - Indian National Congress (Indira Gandhi)
    - Used during the 1977 election after the Emergency (1975-1977).

What features makes election in India democratic?

important features that make elections in India democratic:

1. Universal Adult Suffrage: Every citizen above the age of 18 has the right to vote, ensuring equal political participation for all.
2. Free and Fair Elections: The Election Commission of India ensures that elections are conducted impartially, with transparency and without external interference.
3. Secret Ballot: Voters cast their votes in secret, protecting their freedom to choose candidates without fear of coercion.
4. Multiple Political Parties: A multi-party system allows for diverse political representation and gives voters multiple choices.
5. Independent Election Commission: The Election Commission is an autonomous body responsible for ensuring that elections are conducted fairly and according to the law.

How election commission in India is independent?

The Election Commission of India (ECI) is independent due to several constitutional and legal safeguards. Such as :-

Constitutional Protection: Established under Article 324 of the Indian Constitution.

Secure Tenure: Election Commissioners can only be removed through parliamentary impeachment.

Financial Autonomy: Budget is directly allocated by Parliament, independent of the government.

Power to Act Independently: Can make binding decisions regarding elections without government interference.

ORIENT CLASSES

Independent Appointment Process: Chief Election Commissioner and Election Commissioners are appointed by the President, with protection from political influence.

How can you say the popular participation in election in India is increased?

The popular participation in democratic election in India is increased because,

- The turnout figure of Europe and North America has declined while in India it is increased from 1991 to 2015.
- In India, the interest of voters in election related activities has been increasing over the years due to political awareness.
- Many common people feel that through election they can bring pressure on political parties to adopt policies and programmes favourable to them.

What are the challenges before conducting free and fair election in India?

important challenges in conducting free and fair elections in India:

1. Electoral Fraud and Manipulation:
   Issues like vote buying, rigging, and manipulation of election results undermine fairness.
2. Money and Muscle Power:
   The influence of money and criminal elements can distort the election process, giving an unfair advantage to wealthy or powerful candidates.
3. Communal and Caste-based Politics:
   Campaigns based on religion, caste, or community can lead to polarization, voter intimidation, and division.
4. Political Violence and Intimidation:
   Violence, threats, and intimidation in certain regions can prevent people from voting freely.
5. Inaccurate Voter Lists:
   Errors in the electoral roll, such as the inclusion of ineligible voters or exclusion of eligible ones, can lead to unfair elections.
